ASSISTANT PROFESSOR, TENURE TRACK
CENTER FOR HEALTHCARE ETHICS
DUQUESNE UNIVERSITY

The McAnulty College and Graduate School of Liberal Arts at Duquesne University invites applications and nominations for a full-time, tenure track Assistant Professor for the Center for Healthcare Ethics beginning August, 2012. A Ph.D. in Bioethics or Healthcare Ethics, or a related field, is required.

The Center for Healthcare Ethics offers doctoral and master's degree programs that engage the Catholic tradition. Ideally, the candidate should have expertise in the contribution of religion to bioethics discourse and/or public health ethics from a global perspective. Although the candidate will work primarily with graduate students, future undergraduate teaching may be scheduled. Developing a successful record in teaching, research publications, and service will be required.

For information about the Center please visit our website: www.duq.edu/chce.

The Search Committee Chair is Henk ten Have, MD, PhD, Director, Center for Healthcare Ethics (tenhaveh@duq.edu).

For immediate consideration, please send by email three letters of reference and curriculum vitae, including evidence of scholarship and teaching effectiveness, to:

Review of applicants will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. There will be telephone interviews with leading candidates and on-campus interviews with finalists. Applicants should be willing to contribute to the University mission and show respect for the Spiritan Catholic identity of Duquesne University. The mission is implemented through a commitment to academic excellence, a spirit of service, moral and spiritual values, sensitivity to world concerns, and an ecumenical campus community.

Duquesne University was founded in 1878 by its sponsoring religious community, the Congregation of the Holy Spirit. Duquesne University is Catholic in mission and ecumenical in spirit. Motivated by its Catholic identity, Duquesne values equality of opportunity both as an educational institution and as an employer.
